

The converter also supports over 90 other GIS/CAD vector and raster formats and over 3,000 coordinate systems. If the coordinate system NET is not defined, the program also converts other coordinate systems such as WGS 84, NAVGATE, MDB and others. The utility supports multi-user systems where each has its own XML files. When loading XML files, the program first creates a file with information about the coordinate system, which is used as input. All data stored in XML can be easily imported into an XML file generated by the program.
