Quantitative determination of polycyclic aromatic hydrocarbons in drinking water by solid phase extraction and gas chromatography-tandem mass spectrometry. A rapid, inexpensive, and efficient technique for the determination of polycyclic aromatic hydrocarbons (PAHs) in water has been developed based on solid phase extraction (SPE) combined with gas chromatography-tandem mass spectrometry (GC-MS-MS). The method was validated for PAHs in potable water. Under optimized conditions, the method showed low detection limits (0.004-0.01 microg/L) for PAHs. The recoveries ranged from 81 to 115% with a relative standard deviation (R.S.D.) of less than 20%. The mean recoveries for 14 PAHs in water were from 76 to 101% with an R.S.D. of 8-13%. The proposed method was successfully applied to the determination of 15 PAHs in a real drinking water sample.Q: Unset all variables, directly, without properties on a class Unset all the variables of a class and without using object_name() or class_name.properties() I mean directly via a function or a variable that get all the variables of a class and I want to unset it. for example in a class called Client, I want to unset the variables that contain the word name or phone_number or email or password for example class Client { public $name; public $phone_number; public $email; public $password; } $var = $_POST; // in this case I get the variables that have $_POST // want to unset it unset($var); A: you can do unset(new Client()->name); this will work for all class properties A: You can do an unset on the class itself and the properties will be unset too e79caf774b
