i recommend the use of the 3 freeware tools mentioned before and possibly the following one (also freeware), as most of the softwares are rather old but still sufficient for most uses and given they are freeware, you have nothing to lose. the most important things to have in mind while performing the changes listed below are that you first check that you have a backup and secondly, always be careful and make regular backups of the entire hard drive. writing and downloading files to it are another story. after running the free programs noted above, your first task will be to reboot your system, press "f8" (or "shift + f8" if you are using windows 7) and choose repair your computer. following these instructions will boot you into the advanced boot options page. while the startup repair is running (which may take a few minutes), you may want to launch one of the freeware programs mentioned previously, as well as hopefully your anti-malware program, to keep the background running. firecracker is a software suite designed to help people utilize their computers' hardware and learn how computers work. it is a collection of tools that allow you to control various aspects of your computer including monitoring, disabling, detecting and rooting around in the system. firecracker includes such tools as: rooting, mounting, cache, benchmarks, hardware monitoring, scanning, antivirus and task manager. pbdownforce windows 7 64 bit result file size: 2457601 byte, file version: 2.2.0.0, md5 signature: 4324dd47a2a9b4c5d1c428fefb6f8d6b. pbdownforce.exe error msg : the instruction at 0x55555555 is referenced memory. 5ec8ef588b
